

HPIO Health Value Dashboard to be released at December forum

HPIO is set to release a concise and comprehensive Health Value Dashboard to track Ohio's progress in improving health value.

The HPIO dashboard is unique in that it tracks population health outcomes, health costs, health care system performance, public health system performance, access to health care and Ohio's social, economic and physical environment.

The Institute plans to release the dashboard at a Dec. 16 forum titled "Getting to health value: Building consensus on shared accountability and population health in Ohio." The keynote speaker will be Dr. Sanne Magnan, M.D., Ph.D., President and Chief Executive Officer of the Institute for Clinical Systems Improvement (ICSI) in Minnesota who will be discussing accountability for health and health care. As part of the program, a panel of key stakeholders will react to the Health Value Dashboard, discussing areas where Ohio is doing well, areas where Ohio needs improvement and possible reasons for why Ohio performs poorly in certain areas.

Earlier this year, HPIO created its Health Measurement Initiative (www.hprio.net/groups/health-measurement/) to identify opportunities for collective impact and alignment between public health and the healthcare system in Ohio.

For an overview of the project and a full list of metrics used in the dashboard, visit hprio.net/wp-content/uploads/2014/07/HM_Overview.pdf.

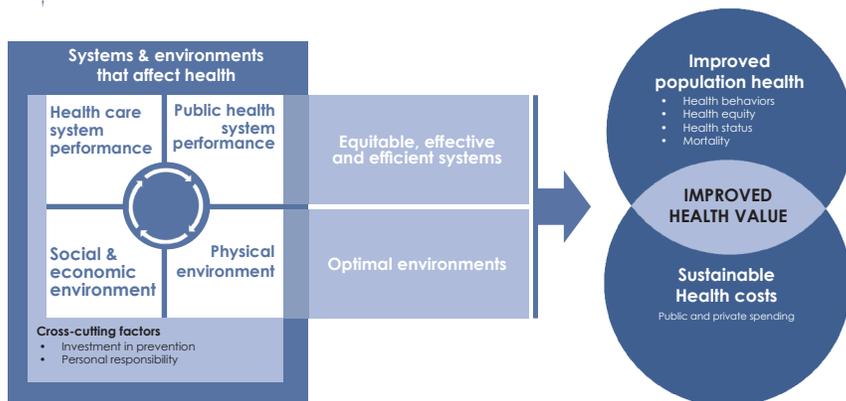

HPIO hosted its second-annual Telehealth Leadership Summit in August at the Ohio Statehouse Atrium to discuss federal and state telehealth policy and regulatory issues, learn about promising telehealth programs and strategies, and hear an update on Ohio's rules and regulations. Above, U.S. Rep. Bill Johnson, R-Marietta, gives the keynote address, titled "Establishing a national definition for telehealth."

HPIO report to guide the work of local ADAMH board

Officials with the Alcohol, Drug and Mental Health Board of Franklin County say that a recently released needs assessment completed by HPIO and Community Research Partners will guide efforts to allocate investment and address unmet needs over the next half-decade.

The Franklin County ADAMH Board hired HPIO and Community Research Partners to conduct a needs assessment in 2014, resulting in a report titled Preparing for the Future: Policy Landscape and Needs Assessment for Mental Health and Addiction Services in Franklin County.

The purpose of the needs assessment was to produce policy-relevant and action-driven information to project the need for publicly-funded mental health and addiction treatment, support and prevention services. ADAMH will use the report to guide its work for next 5 to 7 years.

HPIO's "Pathway to improved health value" serves as a conceptual framework for the Institute's health measurement work

HPIO recognized as Aetna 'Voices for Health' winner

HPIO recently was awarded a $1,000 grant from Aetna as a 2014 local winner of its Voices for Health campaign.

In a letter to HPIO, Floyd Green III, Aetna's Vice President for Community Relations and Urban Marketing wrote that, "Earlier this year, the Aetna Community Relations & Urban Marketing team had been evaluating hundreds of organizations nationally that are working to close the racial and ethnic equity health care gap."

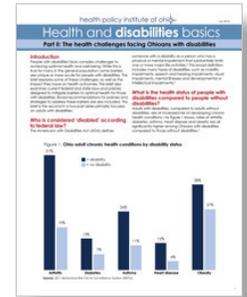

HPIO was one of 33 organizations nationwide to be named a Voices of Health winner.
